Jan. inflation seen at 3.2-3.6%

By Dennis S. Reyes
 The Philippine Statistics Authority (PSA) said that it expects January inflation to be in the range of 3.2 to 3.6 percent. This is a slight increase from the 3.0 to 3.4 percent range expected for December. The PSA said that the increase is due to higher prices for food and non-durable goods. However, the price of services is expected to remain relatively stable. The PSA also said that it expects the inflation rate to remain in the 3.0 to 4.0 percent range for the first quarter of 2004. The central bank, the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP), has been keeping a close eye on inflation and has indicated that it will continue to maintain a tight monetary policy to keep inflation under control.

The lawyer will be responsible for filing a petition with the Tariff Commission to challenge the shield. The DTI also said that it is looking for a lawyer who is experienced in trade law and has a good understanding of the Philippine legal system.

10-year energy plan needs P1.42T in investments

By Arlene A. Dela Cruz
 The Department of Energy (DOE) has announced that its 10-year energy plan will require a total investment of P1.42 trillion. This is a significant increase from the P1.1 trillion investment required for the previous 10-year plan. The DOE said that the increase is due to the need for more power generation capacity and the expansion of the transmission network. The plan also includes investments in renewable energy and energy efficiency programs. The DOE is currently seeking private sector partners to help finance and implement the plan. It also said that it will continue to work with the government to ensure that the plan is fully funded and implemented on time.

Vehicle assemblers want used-car importation stopped

By Michael S. Reyes
 Vehicle assemblers in the Philippines are calling for the government to stop the importation of used cars. They argue that the importation of used cars is unfair to local manufacturers and that it hinders the growth of the domestic automotive industry. The assemblers say that the government should focus on promoting the production of new cars instead of allowing a flood of used cars to enter the market. They also say that the importation of used cars is a waste of resources and that it does not provide any real benefit to the economy. The government has been reluctant to take any action on this issue, and the assemblers are now looking for other ways to pressure the government to stop the importation of used cars.

ACADEMY In the past, the Academy has been criticized for its lack of diversity, but in recent years it has made significant strides in this regard. The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences has a long history of promoting diversity in the film industry. In 1998, the Academy launched the "Diversity in the Industry" initiative, which aimed to increase the representation of people of color and women in all areas of the film business. This initiative led to the creation of the "Diversity in the Industry" award, which is presented annually to individuals who have made significant contributions to the industry. In 2018, the Academy announced that it had reached a historic milestone: for the first time, more than 50% of the members of the Academy were people of color. This was a significant achievement, given that the film industry as a whole has long been criticized for its lack of diversity. The Academy's commitment to diversity is a testament to its leadership in the industry and its commitment to promoting the best of the film business.

The authors argue that the use of the term "disability" is a way of labeling people who are different from the majority, and that this labeling is used to justify discrimination against them. Spice blends that give your Thanksgiving centerpiece a little extra zip are also delicious. A warm blend of dried black peppercorns, cardamom, and allspice will give your turkey a subtle, spicy flavor. Or, if you're looking for a more robust flavor, try a blend of dried red and black peppercorns, cardamom, and allspice. These blends are perfect for roasting your turkey, or for adding to your stuffing.
